Foreword

Welcome to the inaugural Singapore Wine Auction (SGWA) 2026!

It is an immense privilege to greet our community of collectors, connoisseurs, and friends as we gather at the spectacular Resorts World Sentosa on Sunday, 4th of October 2026, for an historic afternoon dedicated to the world's most extraordinary wines. Brought to you by Impeccable APAC and Grand Cru Wine Concierge, this auction represents a unique opportunity for new wine aficionados and seasoned collectors to further add upon their respective private collections.

Every bottle presented in today's catalogue has been chosen not merely for its rarity, but for its provenance and position as a liquid monument of cultural history. Our curation spans few hundred lots of meticulously catalogued lots bringing forward an extraordinary assembly with an estimated total of 3 million Singapore Dollar. These crown jewels map the greatest terroirs of Burgundy, Bordeaux, Champagne, the Rhône Valley, Italy, Spain, and the New World.

We begin our journey with Part 1: Sovereign Cellars: The DRC & Leroy Summit. This opening section sets an elite benchmark, offering a majestic overture of prestige Champagnes and crystalline Grands Blancs. A magnificent focal point here is the array of exceptional white Burgundy verticals, headlined by the magnificent Domaine Coche-Dury Meursault Vertical and the legendary Domaine Coche-Dury Corton-Charlemagne 2014, standing alongside rare masterworks from Domaine des Comtes Lafon and Domaine Roulot. The collection then transitions into the ethereal, highly coveted realms of Domaine Leroy and Domaine d'Auvenay —treasures of unparalleled concentration and micro-production— featuring collectibles such as Domaine Leroy Musigny Grand Cru 2009 and 2011, and Domaine d'Auvenay - Chevalier-Montrachet Grand Cru 2016, before Part 1 concludes with the timeless, legendary single-vineyard masterpieces of Domaine de la Romanée-Conti.

In Part 2: Modern Masters & Global Cult Classics, we celebrate the evolution of contemporary winemaking genius. We anchor this section with the globally worshipped village and premier cru definitions of Domaine Armand Rousseau, featured in highly prized, deep-vintage sequence through Domaine Armand Rousseau Gevrey-Chambertin Lavaux St. Jacques Vertical and the Gevrey Chambertin Clos St Jacques Vertical. From there, we explore the boundary-pushing vanguard of the Côte d'Or, alongside the most fiercely contested global allocations: the powerful, age-defying Nebbiolos of Piedmont, the majestic, historic estates of Spain, and the bold, opulent, 100-point perfection of Napa Valley's Screaming Eagle.

Crucially, this section introduces some of the auction's most awe-inspiring visual centerpieces, showcasing super large formats engineered for landmark celebrations and multi-decade cellaring, such as the towering, structural marvel of the Roagna Barbaresco Crichèt Pajé 2015 in a colossal 18L Melchior format, alongside 5L Imperials and 3L Double Magnums from their exclusive King and Queen case allocations.

Finally, Part 3: Living History: Trophies, Archives & First Growths stands as a museum-grade tribute to the most definitive vinous achievements of the 20th century. Collectors will be treated to the ultimate Grand Cru Monolith of Rousseau's crown jewels, anchored by definitive, back-vintage verticals including the historic Domaine Armand Rousseau Chambertin Grand Cru Vertical (2007–2020) and the Chambertin Clos de Bèze Grand Cru Vertical (2004–2020). This section showcases monumental large formats that rarely ever leave the world's finest private cellars, highlighted by the majestic 2002 DRC Grands-Echezeaux Grand Cru in a 6L Methuselah, the legendary Château d'Yquem 2001 and Château Haut-Brion 1995 both in spectacular 6L Imperial formats, and a breathtaking 1996 DRC La Tâche 3L Double Magnum.

This gives way to the single most historic centerpiece of our auction: the Henri Jayer Historical Archive & Reserve, showcasing pristine estate-bottled legends alongside his original, irreplaceable silver and gold medal diplomas (with certification signatures from his daughter!). We close this historic day by honoring the foundations of fine wine collecting, pairing Right Bank legends and legendary Left Bank Bordeaux First Growths with an ultra-exclusive selection of rare, silent-distillery single malts hidden within the Vault.

Wine is a living, breathing art form. To share these profound bottles—ranging from showstopping monumental formats to the mythical 1945 Château Mouton Rothschild (certified by the Château) and 1928 Château Lafite Rothschild —is to partake in a legacy that transcends generations. On behalf of Impeccable APAC, Grand Cru Wine Concierge, and our official Integrated Resort Partner - Resorts World Sentosa, I invite you to join us for an unforgettable afternoon of discovery and acquisition.

Thank you for your continued trust, your shared passion, and your pursuit of vinous perfection!

From the team of,
Impeccable APAC and Grand Cru Wine Concierge

Bottle Condition Legend

1. Fill Levels / Ullage (Bordeaux, Cabernet Sauvignon, Port & Straight-Shouldered Bottles)

Fill levels for Bordeaux, Cabernet Sauvignon, Port and other straight-shouldered bottles are evaluated relative to the bottle's shoulder geometry.

BN – Base Neck: Liquid sits at the base of the neck. Standard release level and outstanding for wines over 20 years old.

VTS – Very Top Shoulder: Liquid sits at the top curve of the shoulder. Excellent level for mature wines aged 15–25 years.

TS – Top Shoulder: Liquid sits at the upper slope of the shoulder. Normal and expected for wines over 20 years old.

VHS – Very High Shoulder: Slightly lower fill level; completely acceptable for wines aged 25–35+ years.

HS – High Shoulder: Liquid sits at the midpoint of the shoulder slope. Common in wines aged 35–40+ years.

MS – Mid Shoulder: Liquid sits at the middle of the shoulder and may indicate natural cork relaxation or dry storage.

LS / BLS – Low Shoulder / Below Low Shoulder: Significant evaporation or volume loss, with a higher risk of oxidation. Typically sold without guarantee.

2. Fill Levels / Ullage (Burgundy, Rhône & Sloped-Neck Bottles)

For sloped-shoulder bottles such as Burgundy, Rhône, Loire, Champagne and German Riesling, fill levels are measured in centimetres from the bottom of the cork down to the liquid level.

2cm–3cm: Standard for wines aged 10–20 years; excellent for mature vintages.

3cm–5cm: Normal and expected for wines aged 20–30+ years.

5cm–6cm: Acceptable for older vintages aged 30–40+ years and may indicate mild air exchange.

Greater than 6cm: Significant volume loss with a higher risk of oxidation. Typically sold without guarantee.

3. Label & Cosmetic Conditions

These terms describe the physical condition of the label, including wear, dampness and signs of storage history.

BSL – Bin Soiled Label: Label shows signs of aging, dust or cellar dirt from long-term storage.

STL / DSL – Stained / Damp Stained Label: Surface discoloration or paper wrinkling caused by humidity or water exposure.

WASL / WISL – Water Stained / Wine Stained Label: Distinct water marks or wine drips on the paper label.

GSL – Glue Stained Label: Yellowing or dark staining caused by natural adhesive breakdown behind the label.

TSL – Tissue Stained Label: Marks or paper fibre remnants caused by original protective tissue wrapping.

FL / SCL – Faded / Scuffed Label: Light fading from exposure or friction marks on the label surface.

TAL / TL / LL – Tattered / Torn / Loose Label: Physical tears, missing pieces or peeling adhesive.

NOL / WL – No Label / Writing on Label: Label is missing entirely or contains handwritten merchant or cellar notes.

4. Cork & Capsule Integrity

These terms indicate the condition of the bottle's seal, cork placement and capsule.

SOS – Signs of Seepage: Evidence of dried or active wine leakage past the cork seal beneath the capsule.

PC – Protruding Cork: Cork has risen above the bottle lip, which may indicate previous heat exposure.

DC – Depressed Cork: Cork has sunk below the bottle lip line.

CC / CRC – Corroded / Cracked Capsule: Metal capsule shows oxidation, corrosion or visible splitting.

CCV / CUT – Cut Capsule to Reveal Vintage: A section of the capsule has been cleanly cut to verify the vintage or cork branding.

NC / NOC / WXC – Nicked / No Capsule / Waxed Capsule: Capsule has a minor nick or tear, is missing entirely, or the bottle is sealed with wax.

BWC – Broken Wax Capsule: Wax seal over the cork is chipped, cracked or flaking.

Bottle Condition Legend

5. Casing, Bottling & Packaging

These terms identify original packaging types and the official bottling location.

OWC – Original Wooden Case: Original, factory-issued wooden shipping crate from the producer.

OCB / OCC / OC / CN – Original Cardboard / Carton: Original factory-issued cardboard box or carton.

SC – Special / Auction Carton: Repackaged in a custom or high-security auction house shipping carton.

MIS / MC – Mise en Bouteille au Château: Official estate bottling, commonly used for Bordeaux wines.

DB / DOM – Mise au Domaine / Estate Bottled: Official estate bottling, commonly used for Burgundy wines.

BB / NB – Belgian / Négociant Bottling: Wine historically bottled by an authorised third-party Belgian merchant or French négociant.

Domaine des Comtes Lafon Montrachet Grand Cru 2001

Burgundy (RP95-97)

located in Singapore / duty paid

While not a blockbuster as it is only medium-bodied, Domaine Lafon's 2001 Montrachet is a stunning, awe-inspiring wine. According to Lafon, "It is the best Montrachet we've ever made." Spiced pears and vanilla can be found in its complex aromatics. On the palate, this oily-textured wine reveals sublime power, depth, concentration, purity, expanse, and class. Loads of spice-laden pears, candied apples, buttered toast, acacia blossoms, and well-defined minerals are detected in its flavor profile. Its sultry finish, which still bathes the palate in spices after a minute, is mind-numbing. Bravo!

Domaine des Comtes Lafon Montrachet Grand Cru 2002

located in Singapore / duty paid / 1 x stl

"Not too shabby" was the turn of phrase used by the ever-understated Jasper Morris. To translate that from English to American: a superb Montrachet. It is noticeably light in color than the 2002 Perrieres, yet the nose is much more delineated and mineral-rich with a subtle marine-influence (freshly shucked oyster shells) that lend the aromatics intrigue. The palate is very well-balanced with outstanding minerality and precision. You barely notice the weight and presence in the mouth as it cruises to a sublime, orange-zest and hazelnut-tinged finish that lingers long. Not too shabby, in other words. Tasted September 2013.

A fully mature nose of green apple, minerals and a hint of dried hay leads to round, generous and slightly fat medium full flavors that possess good depth and very good length though only average complexity. While there is 7 years of difference between the last time that I had this wine (see herein from 750 ml), it seems that the magnum format was a bit less fresh than its counterpart. In sum, very good but not truly special.

The 2015 Chevalier-Montrachet from Domaine Leflaive is stunning from bottle, wafting from the glass with a lovely nose of lemon pith, wet stones, spring flowers and toasted nuts. On the palate, the wine is full-bodied, concentrated and multidimensional, with extraordinary intensity and mid-palate depth, a long, lingering finish and an effortless sense of cohesion and completeness. But what's especially impressive about this Chevalier is its grace and textural elegance in this vintage: while its concentration and amplitude certainly reflect the year, nothing is out of place. A step up over even the superb Bâtard-Montrachet and one of the high points of the 2015 vintage in white Burgundy.

The 2014 Corton-Charlemagne Grand Cru is a wine that leaves you lost for words - never helpful in this profession. It begs the question: Why are not all Corton-Charlemagnes like this? It has a stunning bouquet with a profound mix of yellow plum, Mirabelle, Seville orange marmalade, those liquid minerals and later, scents of cold wet limestone. The palate is incredibly powerful with stunning acidity. There are multiple layers of spice-tinged citrus fruit, just a faint tinge of marzipan, wondrous umami sensation in the mouth with grilled walnut and a hint of pralines towards the finish. This represents an astonishing Corton-Charlemagne that might end up touching the imperious 2005. Readers should note that Raphael told me that the release of this will be delayed, just like the 2005 and 2010. Put it on your wish list and wait.

Domaine Coche-Dury
Meursault 1er Cru Genevrières 2017Burgundylocated in France*

The 2017 Meursault 1er Cru Les Genevrières bursts from the glass with aromas of green pear, citrus oil, fresh peach, hazelnuts, pastry cream and nutmeg. On the palate, the wine is medium to full-bodied, satiny and enveloping, with an expansive and textural attack that segues into a racy, tensile core, concluding with a beautifully precise, mineral finish. This is a tour de force Genevrières that will be worth every effort to track down.

Domaine Coche-Dury
Meursault 1er Cru Genevrières 2020Burgundy (RP97)located in France*

Deep and complete, Coche's 2020 Meursault 1er Cru Les Genevrières unwinds in the glass with aromas of crisp Anjou pear, orange oil, honeysuckle, freshly baked bread, nutmeg, toasted sesame and iodine. Medium to full-bodied, its satiny attack segues into an ample, fleshy mid-palate that's girdled by racy acids and chalky structuring extract, concluding with a long, saline finish. Uniting texture and tension to compelling effect, this contemporary classic is the quintessential Genevrières.

Here the expressive nose offers up a similar fruit profile but is even spicier and earthier. The gorgeously textured medium-bodied flavors possess surprisingly good power on the dusty, youthfully austere and sneaky long finish. This is also particularly good for its level and while it should easily repay up to a decade of aging, it should also drink well young.

This too is lightly hued. A slightly more deeply pitched nose reveals peppery nuances on the red and dark cherry, earth and spice scents. There is a bit more weight and volume to the barely medium weight flavors that are both utterly delicious and vibrant, all wrapped in a lightly rustic and firmer finish. This is really quite pleasant and a wine that should repay 3 to 5 years of keeping though one that could also be enjoyed upon release.

Here too there is ample petrol influence on the lightly wooded aromas of pear, apple, crushed anise and a whisper of resin character. There is fine volume, richness and power yet the mouthfeel of the medium weight plus flavors is at once powerful yet refined, all wrapped in a lightly stony, serious and youthfully austere finish. As is virtually always the case with this wine, it's presently quite tightly wound and while it could be approached after only 5-ish years, 10 would definitely be better.

Here the green tea character is more prominent on the essence of red cherry aromas and it's enough that it may not appeal to everyone. More interesting are the utterly delicious and beautifully textured medium weight flavors that are succulent but punchy while delivering good length on the mildly austere finale where a hint of warmth slowly emerges. This is certainly pretty but perhaps not quite at its usual level.

This is also sufficiently reduced to mask all but background hints of wood and citrus so I would offer the same guidance here as with the Bâtard, e.g., a thorough aeration would definitely be beneficial. There is again excellent volume and richness, even a certain opulence, to the more prominent mineral-inflected larger-bodied flavors that flash superb length where the only nit is a touch of warmth. This isn't a classic Chevalier in that it's exceptionally rich though on the plus side, it should be approachable earlier than would be typical for a Ramonet Chevy.

Clos du Mesnil 1996Rest of France (RP99)located in Singapore / duty paid*

As if there were any doubts, Krug's 1996 Brut Blanc de Blancs Clos du Mesnil reaffirms its position as one of the greatest – if not the greatest – Champagne of this historic harvest. I have had the privilege of drinking the 1996 Clos du Mesnil a few times over the last year and it has always been breathtaking, as it is again today. The wine sparkles on the palate with a brilliant, pointillist expression of fruit, showing surreal detail, depth and polish. Like a finely cut gem, each impression reveals a different and unique shade of nuance. The 1996 Clos du Mesnil coats every inch of the palate with endless layers of perfumed fruit and a chiseled, minerally finish that lasts forever. The oak seems a touch pronounced in this particular bottle, something I have not encountered previously with this wine. If forced to drink only one Champagne (assuming budget was not an issue) I might very well choose Krug's 1996 Clos du Mesnil. This profound Champagne is as good as it gets. No disgorgement date provided. Anticipated maturity: 2011-2036.

Domaine d'Auvenay Auxey-Duresses Les Boutonniers 2016

From the domaine's oldest vines, the 2016 Auxey-Duresses Blanc Les Boutonniers is extraordinary, soaring from the glass with a stunning bouquet of smoky yellow orchard fruit, honeycomb, green pear and iodine. On the palate, the wine is full-bodied, immensely layered and concentrated, with an elegantly satiny attack, tangy balancing acids and an abundance of dry extract, concluding with a lingering finish. It's hard to say what is more striking: the wine's incredible intensity, its ineffable completeness or its energy. The 2017 Chambolle-Musigny Les Fremières is another highlight from my tasting with Lalou Bize-Leroy. Soaring from the glass with aromas evocative of violet, cherry, wild strawberry and smoke, it is medium- to full-bodied, deep, and concentrated, with a remarkably pure core of fruit, refined tannins and impeccable harmony across all its structural elements. The palate culminates in a long, floral finish. A brilliant Chambolle-Musigny, it will be difficult to resist its charm. Given the acclaim the appellation enjoys, one can only wish there were more wines that delivered this level of purity and sheer drinking pleasure.

The 2013 Clos de Vougeot Grand Cru is still quite tight-knit and reserved, opening in the glass with aromas of cassis and wild plums, mingled with notions of smoked meats, incense, rich soil tones and peonies. On the palate, the wine is full-bodied, deep and textural, built around an ample chassis of rich and powdery tannins and underpinned by lively acids. The rara avis that is the 2011 Musigny Grand Cru has a haunting bouquet that, once again, deserves time to unfurl with blackberry, pomegranate, mineral, cedar and oyster shell notes that are exquisitely defined. The palate is underpinned by filigree tannins. Maison Leroy Corton Grand Cru Les Bressandes 1945 located in France / 2cm - 3cm, bsl, wasl, dsl, fl, cc / crc

Bricked through to the center with only a trace of light ruby remaining. Initially, this displayed a trace of funk that eventually mostly dissipated with air to reveal classy, rich and very fine flavors that are admirably dense even for the naturally dense '45 vintage. This is a big and powerful effort that remains focused and vibrant with years of life remaining. This would have merited an even better score if the nose was the equal of the body and finish. Still, be assured that this is an extremely impressive older burg of real breed and one that emphasizes the minerality of a great Bressandes.

While there is a certain amount of sous-bois present, this has not gone tertiary and thus seems relatively youthful in the context of where the average '83 is today as the nose also displays ample amounts of earth, game and very subtle spice hints, all of which are reflected by the delicious and still forceful medium-bodied flavors that possess fine vibrancy on the lingering, sappy and only mildly rustic finish. The supporting structure has been largely, if not completely, resolved though there is some residual tannin remaining that is likely to always be present. Overall, this is really quite impressive and I would be happy to try it again.

The 1992 Grands Echézeaux Grand Cru came directly from the domaine and yet I find it very disappointing. Montrachet Grand Cru 1989Burgundy (RP99)located in Singapore / duty paid*

Not surprisingly, this is another awesome example from the Domaine de la Romanée-Conti. If pure, honeyed thickness and glycerin are what you are looking for, there is not a more concentrated Chardonnay produced in the world. The only thing I have ever seen from the new world that approaches a wine such as this in nectar-like richness were the 1978 and 1980 Chalone, but that winery has now resorted to making much lighter, more commercially-oriented products. There is nothing commercial about this 1989 Montrachet. If you have 500 to spend, here is a bottle that will offer an awesome nose of honeyed, buttery, apple fruit, intertwined with aromas of smoked nuts and toasty new oak. In the mouth, it is almost greasy because of its extraordinary viscosity, thickness, and richness. The finish is explosive, and while the alcohol must be over 14.5%, it cannot be detected because of the wine's phenomenal concentration. This wine may merit a perfect score in 5-10 years, but currently, it is slightly less ethereal than the 1986 was at a similar period in its evolution.

The 1996 Romanée Saint-Vivant Grand Cru continues to be an absolutely delightful wine from Domaine de la Romanée-Conti, and puts to rest memories of a sub-par bottle tasted blind several years ago. Now two decades old, it retains a healthy color with little sign of ageing. The bouquet is fresh and vital, angular at first yet seeming to gain harmony with each swirl of the glass. It is not intense, but prioritizes clarity and tension over power. Dark berry fruit emerge first, briary and Vervain tea, an underlying mineralité eventually coming forth. The palate is very well balanced, quite linear and certainly not flamboyant or flattering. It makes you, the taster, work to seek out its nuances, its energy and refinement. Hints of black cherry intermingle with a marine-like undertow that governs that finish. It does not possess huge depth and I think Aubert de Villaine makes a more sophisticated wine nowadays, but it remains a joy. Tasted September 2016.

Definite bricking but with a still ruby core. An expressive nose that is fully secondary but not tertiary runs to a spicy sauvage character with dried rose petal, roasted herbs and hints of smoke and soy that merge into middle weight flavors that are finer but less powerful than those of the '87 with a finish that is beginning to exhibit signs of impending dryness and as such, it's time to begin drinking the '86 in earnest. To be sure, this will continue to hold up without difficulty but it won't necessarily be to the good as the present mild astringency will only increase with time. Despite this nit, the '86 manages to remain stylish and sophisticated.

The 2018 Vosne-Romanée Les Petits Monts 1er Cru expresses the growing season more than the terroir. Bulging with precocious Morello cherries and cassis on the nose, it can barely contain its youthful zeal and, for the Domaine, atypical decadence. The palate follows in a similar vein with saturated tannins, velvety red fruit, plump and sensuality. The purity is utterly seductive, but does not exude mineralité and terroir expression. Thoroughly enjoyable, yet it is not intellectual. But it does heighten intrigue, and I would love to taste the same cuvée in a cooler vintage since, to the best of my knowledge, we will see a few bottles released in the future. Unusually for a Rousseau wine, this was moderately reduced and about the only aspect that could be discerned was the wood treatment. I found this doubly curious as a bottle tasted in 2016 was expressive, pretty and fresh with no reduction. Otherwise, the detailed and strikingly intense medium-bodied flavors coat the palate with dry extract that effectively pushes the still firm tannic spine to the background on the palate staining and beautifully long finish. This is arguably somewhat less elegant than it usually is but even so, it's still really lovely stuff. I would add that the sap is so generous that the '09 CSJ could actually be enjoyed now with air though there is obviously plenty of unrealized development potential remaining.

This is also exuberantly fresh with more floral influences and notably better layering of dark currant, earth and a wisp of the sauvage. I very much like the texture of the bigger, richer and more muscular flavors that flash both good power and minerality on the robust, lengthy and built-to-age finish. The ripe and still largely primary nose displays plenty of earth and game elements on the black cherry and violet-scented aromas. There is excellent size, weight and concentration to the serious, intense, round and mineral-driven flavors that culminate in a powerful, detailed and sappy finish that is supported by a firm core of tannins. This is very Gevrey in character and is a 2005 that could be drunk now but will clearly be more interesting with another 5ish or so years of bottle age first.

The 2016 Gevrey-Chambertin 1er Cru Les Cazetiers has a much more reserved bouquet compared to Lavaux Saint-Jacques, more introspective with darker fruit, damp earth/woodland scents percolating through with time, though not as vivacious as the Lavaux Saint-Jacques at this prenatal stage. The palate is medium-bodied with firm tannin, gentle grip in the mouth, quite structured and linear with a touch of sous-Bois toward the finish. This will need a longer time in bottle than the Lavaux Saint-Jacques, but I wonder whether it will reach the same heights?

A wine that continues to catch up to the 1990 (and probably has greater longevity) is the 1989. A dense-colored Rayas, but not as thick-looking as the 1990, this dark ruby-colored wine exhibits plenty of roasted herb notes intermixed with scents of tobacco, sweet creme de cassis, and kirsch. Full-bodied, highly-extracted, powerful, and tannic (resembling 1995 more than 1990), it is shedding its cloak of tannin and beginning to approach full maturity.

Barolo Monfortino Riserva 2019

It's been a while, alas. The last vintage of this legendary wine was 2015. Skipping forward to a year of natural richness and concentration, the Giacomo Conterno 2019 Barolo Riserva Monfortino is a magnificently executed wine. It carefully reins in the soaring power of Nebbiolo and whittles it down to extreme finesse and precision. This is the essence of the grape with no extra bells or whistles. Roberto Conterno tells me he chose not to make Monfortino in 2016 because he considered 2015 to be a superior vintage. (There is an image problem with 2015, he concedes, because 2016 was more consistent overall than 2015; however, his experience with 2015 is better.) The 2017 vintage was a contender for Monfortino, but the wine was not made. The 2018 vintage also came close to production, but a lack of diurnal temperature shifts at the end of the growing season disqualified it, Roberto Conterno explains. His heart settled on 2019, a vintage that reminds him of the tension and energy found in 2013. However, the DNA of the 2019 vintage is slightly different because this edition sees 27% fruit blended from Arione. This site adds finesse and elegance. The rest of the blend represents a special selection from Francia, and that is where this wine gets its power and age-worthy tannins. The 2019 will be released in October 2025.

Floral notes meld into beautifully sculpted fruit as the 2015 gradually opens over time. Although very much a young wine, the 2015 can be enjoyed now with minimal cellaring. I have no doubt it will be even better in the future. The 2015 is a great example of the finesse Luca Roagna has brought to his family's wines through an increased focus on farming and, just as importantly, a reduction of the time these wines spend in oak in favor of more time in cement. Roagna Barbaresco Crichët Pajé 2016

located in France / owc1

The Roagna 2016 Barbaresco Crichët Pajé label displays artwork that pays homage to revolution and labor—two themes reflected at the very heart of Barbaresco production. Alfredo Roagna used to say, "This wine needs to go in many directions," and by that he meant it requires additional time before embarking on its final aging trajectory. This is the main reason we see this bottle come to market so much later than its peers. Even now, tasted upon its release, it shows a complete bouquet with compact fruit flavors of redcurrant, bright lilac and crushed stone. It remains tightly assembled with elegantly chalky tannins. Its complexity is on full display today, but more cellar aging will relax and soften the finish.

Sassicaia 1985Italy (RP100)located in Singapore / duty paid / bn*

Oddly enough, the 1985 Sassicaia was the wine least commented during the conversations that followed this retrospective. Our panel consisted of some two dozen professional wine tasters from around the world, and virtually not a word was uttered with regards to this wine. That's how truly outstanding it is. The soaring beauty of this landmark Sassicaia literally transcends the rather mundane realm of wine critique with its string of adjectives and wearisome descriptors. It hardly deserves to be treated like any of the other gorgeous wines we tasted on this glorious day. In truth, the 1985 Sassicaia does reveal a new perspective onto its perfection each time you have the fortune to taste it. I noticed a layer of bright almond-like sweetness that I don't recall tasting before. The wine seems to be getting younger, not older. Even its appearance is remarkable. Of the various samples presented from the 1980s, this wine exhibited the brightest garnet color and the most youthful personality. It shows stunning volume. The integration is seamless and the wine's many complicated pieces fit together with utmost precision like a jigsaw puzzle that renders a most beautiful Italian masterpiece when admired at completion.

The 2011 Único ended up among my least favorite vintages of recent times, at least the magnum I tasted and in comparison with the 2013 and 2009 and even the 2007 (a very challenging vintage that showed better). Despite the warm year (which they have always said they found cooler than 2010), the wine is "only" 14% alcohol, which is quite moderate for the last few years when the wines routinely reach 14.5%. I found the wine to be quite tannic and lacking the charm I expect in this cuvée. Perhaps with more time? The grapes were picked relatively early, between September 15th and 28th. 3,505 magnums were filled in June 2017.

Vega Sicilia Valbuena 5° 2017

Rest of the World

located in France

2017 was marked by the frost of the night between April 27 and 28 that Vega Sicilia fought with their anti-frost towers. The end of the season was warm, and the overall rain was low, 235 liters. The 2017 Valbuena is marked by these circumstances, produced with 94% Tinto Fino (Tempranillo) and 6% Merlot, with good ripeness (14.5% alcohol) and mellow acidity (4.65 grams of tartaric acid and a pH of 3.85). The grapes were cooled down and took three to four days of maceration to start fermenting with indigenous yeasts. The wine matured in a combination of new and used French and American 225-liter oak barrels and 21,000-liter oak vats for almost three years. The result, for whatever reason, was nothing short of spectacular. The wine is perfumed, floral, expressive and balsamic like few vintages before. It doesn't feel like a 2017 at all; it is harmonious, and the tannins were fine. It's an amazing Valbuena that clearly transcends the character of the vintage. What I see here is that since 2010, the wine has a very high consistency. And in 2017 it excels. 170,071 bottles, 5,516 magnums and some larger formats produced. It was bottled in June 2020.

The bottled 1999 (a blend of 88% Cabernet Sauvignon, 10% Merlot, and 2% Cabernet Franc) is as profound as I predicted a year and a half ago. It boasts an opaque purple color along with a gorgeously pure nose of creme de cassis, charcoal, and floral characteristics. The wine is opulent, dense, and rich, with exceptional purity, a viscous texture, and impressive underlying tannin that frames its large but elegant personality. Not surprisingly, this is a candidate for the wine of the vintage. Anticipated maturity: 2005-2020.

Screaming Eagle Cabernet Sauvignon 2007

located in Singapore / duty paid / bn

The 2007 Screaming Eagle is wonderfully harmonious and drinkable at this stage, showcasing fabulous scents of cigar box, ripe cherries and cassis. Full-bodied, creamy and lush yet not showing any excess weight, it's a beautiful aged Oakville Cabernet, soft, silky and elegant, with great length on the finish. Given its flawless sense of proportion and balance, it should drink well for at least another decade. Readers who prefer their wines more mature may opt for additional cellaring time, but when a wine is this good it's hard to resist.

Screaming Eagle Cabernet Sauvignon 2019

USA (VS100)

located in Singapore / owc1

The 2019 Screaming Eagle is a wine of mind-blowing elegance and finesse that stand apart from the generally more potent style of so many wines in this vintage. Deep, sensual and beautifully layered, the 2019 is simply magnificent from the very first taste. A whole range of red/purplish fruit, spice, leather, dried herb and blood orange accents give the 2019 its vivid, wonderfully detailed personality. Because of its price, both on release and in the secondary market, Screaming Eagle is the most talked about wine in Napa Valley. It is hype or not? All I can say is that I was very fortunate to drink a number of older vintages during lockdown and all those wines lived up to their reputations.

La Romanée Grand Cru 2005
located in Singapore / duty paid / tl

Tasted at the La Romanée vertical at Domaine du Comte Liger-Belair. The 2005 La Romanée Grand Cru from Comte Liger-Belair has a very refined bouquet, far superior to the previous two vintages with black plum, cranberry and subtle marine influences, though it is still tightly-wound at the moment. But there is real class here. The palate is medium-bodied with fine, supple tannin and very well-judged acidity. There is a touch of spice here, real tension with black truffle on the finish. This is an superb La Romanée but one that needs another few years. Tasted June 2015.

Like the Ech, a hint of green tea sits atop the earthier and less spicy aromas of various dark berries. The quite supple medium weight flavors possess a relatively refined mid-palate mouthfeel that contrasts somewhat with the moderately austere, powerful and solidly complex finish that tightens up noticeably as it sits on the palate.

Here too there is a hint of green tea to the similar nose of spiced plum, dark pinot and violet scents. The sleek, beautifully detailed and vibrant flavors possess more volume even if they're not especially dense, all wrapped in an attractively textured, lingering and nicely complex finale. This is quite good in its understated fashion.

The 1990 Bonnes-Mares Grand Cru is one of the oldest vintages I have tasted from this Morey estate. It has a mature ferrous nose, perhaps a little Brettanomyces, notes of hickory and sage coming through with time. This is quite perfumed. The palate is lovely and balanced, the tannins just a little drier than I would like, but with plenty of substance and "grunt" on the finish.

Christophe Roumier
Charmes-Chambertin Grand Cru 2018
Burgundy
located in France

Expressive aromas of cherries, rose petals, orange rind and red fruit compote introduce the 2018 Charmes-Chambertin Grand Cru, a medium to full-bodied, broad and layered wine that's supple, charming and fleshy, with powdery tannins and juicy acids, concluding with a long and sapid finish. Roumier opted to use 40% whole cluster this year, and the results are very fine indeed. While this isn't an easy wine to find, I sometimes think that, along with the Morey Bussière, this is the most comparatively underrated wine in the cellar at this address.

The 2022 Gevrey-Chambertin Aux Echézeaux 1er Cru has impressive transparency on the nose, crushed stone infusing red berry fruit, and touches of pressed rose petals. At the time of my visit to the domaine, Jean-Marie Fourrier tells me that he is undecided on whether there will be a Cuvée Centenaire this year. Burgundy (BH97)

located in Singapore / duty paid

A notable ripe, incredibly complex and kaleidoscopically broad nose features a dazzling array of aromas, particularly violet and rose petal nuanced with menthol, anise, clove and cinnamon. There is a wonderfully seductive, even lush texture to the sweet, pure and refined full-bodied flavors that are harmonious and deep, with a driving tension that forces everything into striking relief yet the palate impression is pure velvet on the immensely long finish. This gorgeous and built-to-age effort is an overtly powerful yet not especially weighty wine where about the only nit on the sappy finish is a touch of warmth. This is one of the few '05s that could be enjoyed now though for my taste I wouldn't even consider opening one for at least another 5 years and 8 to 10 would be better.

The 1999 Vosne-Romanee 1er Cru Les Brulees, served blind, has a deep, broody nose that feels younger than its 15 years. There is plenty of ripeness here, slightly medicinal, with just a hint of menthol emerging with time in the glass, a nose that expresses the precocity of that season. The palate is medium-bodied with firm, chewy tannins – a robustness that marks out a great Brulees. There is good depth: a sturdy and forthright Vosne-Romanee with a sweet, plush finish that suggests it will chug along nicely for another decade. Tasted March 2014.

Unusually fresh and relatively bright aromas in the context of where the vast majority of '76s are today, even from larger format bottles, with spicy red and black fruit, sous-bois and earth hints that introduce rich, delicious and still vibrant medium full flavors underpinned by firm but integrated tannins on the long if ever-so-slightly drying finish. This is highly complex and drinking perfectly now and though it will hold for another 50 years in this format, I can't see any further improvement. A first rate example of the vintage.

While the wood treatment is certainly evident it remains reasonably subtle on the overtly cool and restrained nose that is markedly spicy with its broad-ranging combination of exuberantly fresh aromas of dark cherry, raspberry, rose petal, violet, plum and a suggestion of earth. There is excellent power and punch to the large-scaled flavors that are a combination of power and refinement while being blessed with an abundance of sappy dry extract that imparts a seductive quality to the mouthcoating, hugely long and firmly structured and chiseled finish. While the Chambertin appears to have a slight edge at this very early juncture due to having slightly better complexity, it's going to be interesting in 20 to 25 years' time to see which is the better wine!

As is often the case with this wine, it is exceptionally pretty but not overly dense. However in 2006, there is good complexity and refinement to both the elegant red berry fruit and spice aromas that slide gracefully into detailed, pure and lacy middle weight flavors that possess good if not truly distinguished depth and persistence. To my taste this pleasant and rich effort has just arrived on the front end of its peak drinkability. Tasted twice post-bottling with consistent results.

A somewhat taciturn and narrow nose features a limited mix of wild red berries, warm earth and a touch of underbrush that continues onto the round, delicious, fresh and supple flavors that possess a certain delicate quality to them as well as a subtle touch of minerality on the persistent finish. This is a bit rounder than the Cazetiers with finer tannins as well. In sum, this is pretty rather than profound.

Nutmeg, coriander, and fresh sour cherry aromas on the nose of Rousseau's 2006 Clos de La Roche usher in a fascinating palate, pungently spicy, tartly-fruited, and backed by an alkaline, saline, very marine sense of mineral abundance. The smoky, stony, and bitter-sweet elements in common with so many wines of this collection here steer clear of austerity thanks to the wine's sheer primary juiciness and the invigorative potential of its distinctive minerality. If tasted blind, I might well have picked it as a rarified expression of Clos St.-Denis. I expect this will be worth savoring over the next 6-8 years, but given the relative delicacy of its frame, I would want to monitor its evolution in case it seems a shame not to enjoy it sooner.

A cool, ultra-fresh and high-toned nose of cranberry and raspberry trimmed in a bit of warm earth is showing only traces of secondary development. The lighter weight yet precise and attractively textured flavors are decidedly punchy while delivering excellent authority and impressive depth on the balanced and lingering finish where a touch of austerity slowly emerges. This is not a big example or even especially muscular Clos de la Roche but it's harmonious and delicious. In my view, this has arrived at its peak though it should have no trouble continuing to hold well. Tasted twice in 2025 with consistent notes.

The 2013 Clos de la Roche Grand Cru, which will contain some new oak although I tasted from a used barrel, has a tightly knit bouquet that at the moment is less expressive than the Mazis-Chambertin. The palate is crisp and pure, quite tensile, with a spiciness that becomes more prominent toward the fleshy, harmonious finish. Curiously, even from a used barrel the texture feels as if there is some new oak, but that is just the concentration of fruit coming through. Frédéric enthused about this wine and I suspect that it may surpass my expectations once in bottle.

The 2016 Clos de la Roche Grand Cru is one of the standout vintages in recent years. This has an intense, almost penetrating bouquet with red and blue fruit, incense and a sprig of wild mint. There's a lot going on aromatically... and it's just getting started. The palate has a ripe entry, plenty of ripeness and succulence counterbalanced by a silver thread of acidity. Very harmonious, tremendous length, this feels like a "complete package," poised and Rousseau in full effect.

The 2017 Clos de la Roche Grand Cru was one of the "surprise packages" of the Rousseau tasting. Fragrant and highly perfumed on the nose, this bursts with shimmering red fruit, Morello cherries and white-tipped strawberry, rose petal and crushed stone. The palate feels reassuringly supple in the mouth, yet the tension locked into this Clos de la Roche means it outshines the 2019. Edgy and energetic thanks to that spine of acidity, it dovetails into a silky and tender finish. Gorgeous!

It seems that this has barely budged since it was bottled and at this point, the 750 ml note remains accurate though I found a bit less wood influence here than I did in the smaller format version: An expressive, ripe and elegant nose of Vosne style spice, moderate oak and a mix of earth, minerals and violets leads to rich, round and impressively precise flavors that deliver serious punch and excellent depth. I very much like the overall sense of harmony and fine balance here. This should age well and Jay lovers will definitely be pleased. Ausone's extraordinary minerality is present in the 1995, yet there are more aromatics, a richer, more multidimensional palate impression, and a fuller texture - all with the terroir brilliantly expressed. The wine boasts a dense ruby/purple color and an emerging but tightly-knit nose of spring flowers, minerals, earth, and black fruits. Rich, with an opulent texture and surprising sexiness for a young vintage of Ausone, the medium-bodied 1995 displays exquisite balance between its acid, tannin, alcohol, and fruit. Although it is not yet seamless, all the elements are present for an extraordinary evolution in the bottle. This wine will age at a glacial pace for 30-40 years. Anticipated maturity: 2010-2045. In many respects, the 2002 may be even more impressive than the 2003. A far more challenging vintage to get everything right, and especially in St.-Emilion, where many disappointments have been produced, this is one of the wines of the vintage and (along with Pavie) among the finest wines from the Right Bank. It possesses a deep purple color as well as a gorgeous nose of creme de cassis, blackberries, wet stones, and wonderfully perfumed floral notes. The 1982 Cheval Blanc is a sumptuous, sensual wine, bursting with aromas of sweet raspberries, orange rind, dried flowers, cedar box, black truffles, vine smoke and menthol. Medium to full-bodied, ample and enveloping, it's supple and seamless, with a fleshy mid-palate, melting tannins and a long, expansive finish. As is often the case at this address, at age 40, it's the wine's Cabernet Franc component that really dominates its personality, meaning that it gratifies the intellect as completely as it does the senses. I've drunk the 1982 Cheval three times this year, and it has been remarkably consistently brilliant.

Tasted at the property, the 1986 Cos d'Estournel, which was aged in 90% new oak and is a blend of 68% Cabernet Sauvignon, 30% Merlot and 2% Cabernet Franc, is a vintage that I had not tasted for a number of years. It has a healthy color, quite deep with just a thin bricking on the rim. The nose is quite intense, quite voluptuous for a 1986, perhaps blind I might have mistaken it for a 1985. Red plum, licorice and graphite, there is something rounded and sensual about this 1986—although it does not have the complexity of the greatest vintages of Cos d'Estournel. The palate is medium-bodied with grainy tannin, savory and almost meaty on the mouth, nicely balanced and then...BAM! There's a real spicy, black pepper kick on the finish originating from the Cabernet Sauvignon. It does not possess the structure or persistence of the greatest 1986s, rather a Claret that I know would just shine and complement dishes at the dinner table. Drinking perfectly now, this Cos d'Estournel has another 15-20 years to offer. Tasted July 2016.

Pale to medium lemon-gold, the nose is simply WOW—an absolute show-stopper, delivering vibrant, youthful lime cordial, pink grapefruit and lemon meringue pie scents followed up by suggestions of chamomile tea, saffron, cassis and nutmeg plus wafts of marzipan, crushed rocks and beeswax. The palate is beyond-belief intense, offering a myriad of decadent citrus fruit preserves and earthy/mineral-inspired nuances, instilling incredible depth, all punctuated by profound freshness and finishing epically long and exquisitely delicious. The alcohol this vintage is 13.6%, while the residual sugar is a whopping 150 grams per liter, beautifully balanced by a total acidity of 4.5 grams per liter of H2SO4. Obviously, the longer readers are willing to cellar this, the more they will get of that ethereal tertiary complexity/experience. This said, for those who love great Sauternes in its youthful/primary flushes, even at this very early stage in its evolution, the multifaceted 2001 d'Yquem will not disappoint.

It is fun to go back and forth between the 1995 and 1996, two superb vintages for Haut-Brion. The 1995 seems to have sweeter tannin and a bit more fat and seamlessness when compared to the more structured and muscular 1996. Certainly 1995 was a vintage that the brilliant administrator Jean Delmas handled flawlessly. The result is a deep ruby/purple-colored wine with a tight but promising nose of burning wood embers intermixed with vanilla, spice box, earth, mineral, sweet cherry, black currant, plum-like fruit, medium to full body, a high level of ripe but sweet tannin, and a finish that goes on for a good 40-45 seconds. This wine is just beginning to emerge from a very closed state where it was unyielding and backward. Anticipated maturity: 2006-2035. Last tasted, 11/02.

Château L'Eglise-Clinet 1998

located in France / owc12

The Château l'Eglise-Clinet 1998 has developed an absolutely stunning bouquet: precocious, glycerin-rich red cherries, cassis, violets and minerals all beautifully defined and so intense. The palate is full-bodied with ripe tannin, layers of sweet blackberry and wild strawberry fruit intermingling with white pepper, cumin, black truffle and tar. There is a crescendo towards the finish that just fans out across the mouth. After 17 years (which makes me feel old, as I remember tasting it from barrel), it is a Pomerol that will take on all comers in the appellation with the exception of the 1998 Petrus. It will give 40-50 years worth of drinking pleasure. Tasted March 2015.

The 1990 La Mission Haut-Brion is drinking brilliantly right now. Revealing aromas of truffles, spices, mocha, prune and a touch of tobacco, it's beautifully balanced, satiny and sensual, with incredible concentration and a long, delicate finish. The 1996 La Mission Haut-Brion is an improvement on the previous vintage, though it remains a couple of steps behind the high point of the decade, which came two years later. This is quintessential 1996 Pessac, featuring scents of warm gravel and scorched earth on a nose that might be classic to some, but a bit dour to others with a penchant for more hedonistic wines. It's a structured 1996, drier and more austere than the 1998, but there is good grip and delineation, if maybe just a little leafiness toward the finish. Over the years I have found a bit of bottle variation, and this example falls between the best and worst. Overall, I expected more given the vintage. Give this a couple of hours' decanting. Tasted at the Vinous 1996 horizontal at Berry Brothers & Rudd.

Château Lafite Rothschild 1928

located in France / bn, bsl, stl

The 1928 Lafite-Rothschild is one of the first pre-Second World War Clarets that I ever tasted courtesy of Charles Chevalier. Sadly, it is not a great '28 Bordeaux and being fortunate to have tasted the 1928 Latour the same day, they are not even close in quality. The 1928 Lafite has a brick core with a wide amber rim, clear in color. So far, so good... Then there comes an oddly anodyne bouquet that feels expunged of terroir and personality: monotone and rather smudged. The palate is medium-bodied and demonstrates commendable weight, but again, there is little personality and it feels static on the finish. As The Strokes once asked...is that it? Tasted at the Lafite-Rothschild dinner at Amuse Bouche in Hong Kong.

Château Lafleur 2000

Tasted at Justerini & Brooks agency tasting in London. The Château Lafleur 2000 is a monumental wine. Imagine a Harley Davidson thundering down the tarmac. Wouldn't you want to get on? It has an extremely intense, but ineffably pure nose with more mineral expression than the Lafleur 1995. It has loosened up a little since I last tasted it, but I concur with Robert Parker that if I were lucky enough to have some of these in my cellar, I would wait until 2020 to experience the wine at its plateau. Allowing the wine to open over 30 minutes, I notice an almost flinty scent developing on the bouquet. The palate is medium-bodied, crystalline and symmetrical—everything beautifully focused—almost Left Bank in texture. This had a firm backbone, but that is becoming more "flexible" in recent years, and it fans out with consummate ease on a finish that is so long that it makes "War and Peace" seem like a short read. This is simply magnificent. Tasted February 2015.

As I wrote earlier this year, the 1982 Léoville Las Cases is one of the least evolved wines of the vintage, and this impeccably conserved ex-château bottle was, if anything, even more youthful still. Retaining a saturated ruby-black hue at age 40, it unwinds in the glass with aromas of cassis and other dark fruits mingled with notions of pencil shavings and loamy soil. On the palate, it's full-bodied, broad-shouldered and muscular, with an ample core of fruit framed by voluminous, powdery tannins. Rich and concentrated, with an expansive, comparatively low-acid profile, it comes into its own with extended aeration—and with food.

located in France / owc1

Medium to deep brick in color, the nose of the 1945 Mouton Rothschild is ATOMIC. It explodes from the glass with the most vibrant, spritely black cherry compote, kirsch and raspberry pie notes you can possibly imagine. This is backed up with beautifully fragrant rose oil, dried lavender, fallen leaves and wild mushroom scents, followed by waves of eucalyptus, cigar box, woodsmoke, incense and dark chocolate coming through as it transforms in the glass over the course of 30-45 minutes. The full-bodied palate is rich, decadent and very densely layered, strutting exquisitely ripe, fine-grained, silt-like tannins. The overall character is paradoxical: at once profoundly mature and yet so jaw-droppingly youthful. If this finish does not bring a tear to your eyes, nothing will.

A heady, exotic wine, the 2003 Mouton Rothschild takes hold of all the senses. The ripeness and exuberance of the year comes through in spades as this dramatic, opulent wine shows off its radiant personality. The 2003 can be enjoyed now, but it could also use another few years for the tannins to soften. Still, the 2003 is pretty hard to resist today. This is an exceptional, deeply satisfying Mouton endowed with notable richness but also exceptional balance. Hints of toffee, torrefaction and dark spices are laced into the finish. In 2003 the blend is 76% Cabernet Sauvignon, 14% Merlot, 8% Cabernet Franc and 2% Petit Verdot, all brought in between a fairly narrow window of ten days between September 15 and 25.

The 1966 Pichon-Longueville Comtesse de Lalande has been variable over recent bottles, but this was one of the better examples. The aromatics seems a little timeworn with vestiges of black fruit, rusty piping, tobacco and Earl Grey tea; attractive even if it now lacks some vigour. The palate is medium-bodied with dry tannins, austere in style yet balanced with just about sufficient freshness. It is not an overly complex Pichon-Lalande and there is some attenuation towards the conservative finish. That said, it is better than the first bottle that was awful...until Nicolas Glumineau realised that he had mistakenly fetched the 1967! Tasted at the château.

The 1975 Pichon-Longueville Comtesse de Lalande is one of the standout wines of that decade, though I had not encountered a bottle for several years. This one, direct from the château cellars, is initially rather muddled on the nose as if it doesn't know what to do. Black cherries, wild mint and hints of roasted chestnuts emerge with time. There's a bit more VA here than another bottle would show. The palate is sweet on the entry with plush black fruit and a suggestion of gingerbread in the background. With impressive density and grip, the 1975 coheres well with aeration. This is not the best example that I have drunk, but it does improve in the glass. Tasted at the château.

The 1978 Pichon-Longueville Comtesse de Lalande has long been my favorite vintage from that decade, and it shaded the 1988 and 1998. After 46 years, the aromatics have retained amazing freshness and vitality, leaning more towards red fruit mixed with a light marine influence, cedar and wild mint. The palate is medium-bodied with nigh perfect balance. It is not the most complex Pauillac that you will ever drink, but this Pauillac over-delivers in terms of freshness. It exerts a gentle grip, the black fruit infused with oyster shell, a judicious sprinkling of black pepper on the harmonious finish. This is classic "old school" claret at its best.

A very youthful wine that probably will never hit the heights of the 1990 (but how many wines do?), this dense ruby/purple-colored wine has a very pure nose of roasted espresso, black cherry jam, blackberry, mineral, and even a hint of blueberry. Some smoke and high-quality toasty new oak are there, but now that seems to be fading into the background. The 1990 Petrus remains incredibly young, one of the least evolved wines of the vintage (along with Montrose and Beausejour-Duffau). This dense ruby/purple-colored effort is beginning to hint at the massive richness and full-bodied intensity lurking beneath its wall of tannin. The vintage's sweetness, low acidity, and velvety tannins are present in abundance, and the wine is massive in the mouth as well as incredibly pure and well-delineated. I thought it would be drinkable by now, but it appears another 5-10 years will pass before it begins to reach its plateau of maturity. This wine is capable of lasting at least four more decades. All shipping must be prepaid in full.

1. LIMITATIONS ON IMPORTATION

Bidders should be aware that various jurisdictions restrict the importation of alcoholic beverages. It is the Buyer's sole responsibility to investigate, apply for, obtain, and comply with all special permits, license requirements, and shipping restrictions before collecting or shipping their wine.

GC Wines assumes no obligation or responsibility for obtaining these permits on behalf of the Buyer and disclaims all liability if a Buyer fails to secure them. GC Wines is not the owner or Seller of the Property; we act strictly as a marketing agent making delivery arrangements on the Buyer's behalf. Bidders are strongly urged to review their local importation laws before bidding to determine if, when, and how their items can be legally delivered to their jurisdiction.

2. COLLECTION OF PROPERTY

Pick-Up Schedule: Complimentary pick-up is available by appointment only. You must schedule your pick-up by emailing GC Wines at support@singaporewineauction.com at least one week in advance.

Payment Clearance: Auction Lot items will not be released until your payment is received in full and funds have cleared.

Insurance Requirement: Once ownership transfers to you (passage of title), you are entirely responsible for getting adequate insurance coverage for all your purchased items. GC Wines is not responsible for any risk of loss or damage, and will not be liable for any special, consequential, or exemplary damages.

Cask and Barrel Conditions: GC Wines is not responsible or liable for the condition or deterioration of any casks, barrels, or the liquid inside them. We are not liable for any losses or damages connected to the purchase of wine casks.

3. MULTIPLE DELIVERIES OR PICKUPS

Any Auction Lot that is split into two or more parts for multiple deliveries or pickups shall be subject to a service charge per split, per Auction Lot.

4. STORAGE

Shipping Requests: You can request shipping starting 7 business days after the auction, but you must submit your instructions within 5 days after making your payment by emailing support@singaporewineauction.com.

Late Instruction Fees: If you do not submit shipping instructions within this timeframe, you will be charged a storage fee of SGD 30 per box, per month.

30-Day Moving Deadline: If you do not arrange shipping or collect your items within 30 days after the auction date, GC Wines may move your wine to a third-party warehouse or store it on-site. You must pay all packing, handling, shipping, insurance, and storage fees before GC Wines will release the items.

90-Day Abandonment Rule: If your items are not collected within 90 days after the auction date for any reason, GC Wines is authorized to take any action it deems appropriate. Unless agreed otherwise in writing, we can consider the property abandoned and may resell it publicly or privately to cover outstanding legal fees, auction costs, storage charges, and buyer's premiums.

5. SHIPPING

Shipping Request Window: You can request shipping starting 7 business days after the auction, but you must email your shipping instructions to support@singaporewineauction.com no later than 5 days after your payment is received.

Terms and Conditions of Collection, Shipping and Third-party Delivery Services of Wines

Buyer is solely responsible for the shipment of Property and shall assume all obligations for compliance with applicable laws. Subject to applicable laws, at Buyer's request, GC Wines may act as an agent to engage a common carrier to deliver the Auction Lot items to Buyer on Buyer's behalf.

Shipping will be at Buyer's expense and must be prepaid or freight collect. Shipments are also subject to service charges customary in international wine shipping.

Any loss or damage resulting from shipping auction lot items via any carrier will be the sole responsibility and at the risk of Buyer and/or carrier. GC Wines is not responsible for any deterioration, damage or loss to the auction lot items occurring while in transit.

6. TAXATION

Taxation is determined by the laws of the final destination of shipment. It is Buyer's responsibility to ensure compliance with applicable tax laws for shipments.

Buyers holding resale licenses may be exempt from taxation and should present the required documents to GC Wines prior to purchase.

Some jurisdictions may also impose excise taxes on shipments of Property into their territory. GC Wines may collect such excise taxes from Buyer, where required.

7. INDEMNIFICATION

Buyer agrees to indemnify, defend, and hold GC Wines harmless from any and all demands, claims, suits, judgments, or other liability (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses incurred by GC Wines in connection therewith) arising by reason of Buyer's breach or Buyer's failure to pay any applicable taxes therewith. This indemnification shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

Insurance coverage on shipping does not cover confiscation by any government or law enforcement agency as a result of alleged violations of applicable laws by Sellers or Buyers.

8. LANGUAGE

In case of any conflict between the English and Chinese versions of this document, the English version shall prevail.

Terms & Conditions

1. BIDDER'S AND BUYER'S AGREEMENT.

You as a bidder and buyer at auction ("Bidder") agree to the Terms and Conditions as published by GC Wines (SG) Pte Ltd ("GC Wines"), and constitute the Bidder's entire agreement (the "Agreement") with GC Wines and the seller ("Seller") with respect to the auction item listed in this catalogue. GC Wines retains the right to amend the Agreement from time to time and at any time prior to, during and after any auction. You as a Bidder agree to abide by all the terms and conditions of the Agreement.

GC Wines acts strictly as an agent for the Seller. The Agreement for the sale of the items within the Auction Lot is therefore between Seller and the highest Bidder accepted by the auctioneer ("Buyer").

2. AUCTION MATTERS

a) All Auction Lots Sold "AS IS"

GC Wines, in good faith, attempts to provide an accurate description of all auction items, and may, but is not obliged to, seek views and opinions of third party experts and consultants either before or after the sale of certain Auction Lots.

Bidders are advised to conduct their own inspection of the auction items they are interested in as GC Wines will not be liable for any of its description of the auction items, be it in oral or written basis, or for any errors or omissions relation to such description. All auction items of the Auction Lots are sold "AS IS" without any guarantee, representations or warranties by us or the Seller, except for the express representations and warranties given by the Seller.

We and the Seller disclaim all implied warranties, including but not limited to merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose, except in so far as such obligations cannot be excluded by law. Neither we nor the Seller give you any guarantee, representation or warranty as to the correctness of the Catalogue or other images or descriptions of the condition, completeness, size, quality, rarity, value, importance, medium, frame, provenance, exhibition history, or literary or historical relevance of any Auction Lot, and no statement anywhere, whether oral or written, will be deemed such a warranty, representation or assumption of liability.

While GC Wines and its appointed specialists physically inspect every bottle not sourced directly from a winery to check for appropriate fill levels, capsule condition, and colour, the natural maturation and potential degradation of older wines are considered an inherent risk borne by the buyer.

b) No Guarantee

GC Wines, the Sellers and any of their respective officers, employees or agents, do not express or imply any warranties or guarantees in respect of the auction items of the Auction Lots in terms of their merchantability, fitness for any particular purpose and use, the accuracy of any description, or any other description in respect of their origin, condition, quality, authenticity, estimated value, history and/or rarity.

c) Registration to Bid

All Bidders must fully complete a bidder registration form and provide the required information requested in the registration form as well as proof of age. GC Wines may also require proof of availability of funds from the Bidder and upon request, official government identification. GC Wines may opt to refuse any prospective Bidder's participation at its sole discretion.

d) Importation and Exportation

GC Wines makes no representation or warranty regarding the legal right of any party to ship, import, or export alcoholic beverages to, from, or into any jurisdiction. The buyer is expressly advised to read the section of these Terms and Conditions in relation to Collection, Shipping and Third-Party Delivery Services of Wines, which is incorporated into this Agreement. Various jurisdictions may prohibit the importation and resale of wine, limit the quantity of alcoholic beverages allowed, or require the buyer, seller, or shipper to possess specific licenses or permits. It is the Buyer's sole responsibility to determine all applicable local laws, prohibitions, and restrictions before bidding, and to apply for and obtain any required export or import permits or licenses. GC Wines assumes no obligation and bears no responsibility whatsoever for obtaining these permits. Furthermore, the denial or delay of any permit or license does not justify the rescission of any sale or any delay in making full payment for the purchase.

Terms & Conditions

e) Absentee Bidding

Bidders who intend to place an absentee bid are advised to read the Absentee Bids form, which is part of this Agreement. If you cannot attend the auction in person, by phone, or through an agent, GC Wines offers complimentary absentee bidding service as a convenience. You can submit your written bids before the auction, including online through the internet. All bids must be placed in the currency of the auction location. GC Wines provides this service as an accommodation and is not liable for any mistakes, omissions, or failures in executing your absentee bids.

f) Telephone Bidding

Bidders who intend to place a bid via telephone may do so by making prior arrangements with GC Wines prior to the day of the auction. GC Wines offers complimentary telephone bidding service as a convenience. GC Wines provides this service as an accommodation and is not liable for any mistakes, omissions, or failures in executing your telephone bids.

g) Catalogues

While GC Wines aims to describe each Auction Lot in this catalogue accurately, we are not liable for any errors or omissions in these descriptions. GC Wines retains the absolute right to amend any Auction Lot description at any time before or during the auction. All classifications, catalogue entries, advertisements, bills of sale, and written or oral statements are expressions of opinion only and should not be relied upon as absolute facts.

Bidders must account for natural variations in wine, including ullage (fill levels), and the condition of cases, labels, corks, and the wine itself. GC Wines will not accept returns, offer credits, or adjust prices after delivery, except as strictly permitted under Section 3(d). Catalogue images are for illustration only and may not show all defects; therefore, bidders should not rely solely on images and are strongly encouraged to inspect the property in person before bidding.

h) Reserve Price

There is a Reserve Price for each Auction Lot, which is the confidential minimum amount required for the Auction Lot to be sold. If the highest bid does not meet this reserve price, the Auction Lot will not be sold. While GC Wines reserves the right to change the reserve price at any time before bidding opens on a Lot, the reserve price will never exceed the low estimate printed in the catalogue or modified by any oral or posted notices.

i) Low and High Estimates

We provide a low and high price estimate for each Auction Lot in the catalogue, which does not include the Buyer's premium or any applicable taxes. These estimates are based on past sales of similar property whenever possible. While they serve as a general guide for prospective Bidders, they are not a guarantee or prediction of the final selling price and should not be relied upon as such. GC Wines determines these estimates before the auction and reserves the right to revise them at any time to reflect changing market conditions.

j) Bidder's Warranties

By bidding in this auction, whether in person, online, by phone, or via an absentee bid, you represent and warrant that you:

- Meet the minimum age requirement of at least eighteen (18) years old;
- Hold the legal authority, capacity, and right to purchase, receive, possess, and handle any Auction Lot you buy; and
- Are bidding independently and in full compliance with all applicable laws, ensuring your bids are not part of any anti-competitive or collusive agreement.

k) No Sellers Bidding

Sellers agree not to place bids, or have anyone place bids on their behalf, on any Auction Lot they own. However, a Seller may bid on their own Auction Lot, either personally or through an agent, if GC Wines has expressly granted them permission to do so.

l) Bidding by GC Wines

GC Wines reserves the right to bid for its own account, or on behalf of its associates, on any Auction Lot in any auction. Any such bids will be subject to the exact same terms and conditions that apply to all other Bidders and Buyers.

Terms & Conditions

m) Employees of GC Wines and its Associates may submit Bids

Employees of GC Wines and its associates ("GC Wines Employees") are allowed to bid on their own account for any Auction Lot at any auction. This permission is granted provided that the employees:

- Submit absentee bids prior to the start of the auction, as this is the only method allowed;
- Do not have access to any confidential information regarding the specific Auction Lot they are bidding on; and
- Comply fully with all active employee bidding procedures and rules.

Successful employee bids may qualify for a discount on the Buyer's premium. GC Wines can share the details of this discount policy with any Bidder upon receiving a written request, subject to any terms GC Wines deems reasonable. Furthermore, GC Wines reserves the right to cancel discounts for any specific auction by notifying employees before the auction begins.

n) Discount on Buyer's Premium

GC Wines reserves the right to offer discounts on the Buyer's premium to Bidders whose transaction volume with GC Wines and its associates exceeds a specific qualifying threshold.

The details of this discount policy can be shared with any Bidder upon written request, subject to any terms and conditions GC Wines deems reasonable. GC Wines may also suspend these discounts for any specific auction by notifying the affected Bidders before the auction starts. Please note that employees and buyers are strictly ineligible for any Buyer's Premium discounts during charity auctions.

o) Hammer Price

When the auctioneer drops the hammer, the highest bidder becomes the official Buyer. This hammer strike locks in the final "hammer price" and creates a legally binding contract between the Buyer and the Seller.

p) Passage of Title to Buyer

You officially own your items (title passes to you) as soon as GC Wines issues your Final Invoice.

By bidding, you authorize GC Wines to act as your agent to safely store your items until you pay. However, you cannot pick up or take possession of any items until your Final Invoice is paid in full.

q) No Liability.

GC Wines is not responsible for any mistakes or failures when entering bids, and buyers agree to clear GC Wines of any liability for these errors. Once you officially own the auction items, GC Wines is no longer responsible for any loss or damage to them. You must arrange your own adequate insurance coverage for your items after ownership transfers to you.

r) Auctioneer's Discretion.

GC Wines and the auctioneer have full authority over how the auction is run. At their absolute discretion, they can:

- Change the Lots by withdrawing, dividing, or combining any of them;
- Control the bidding by rejecting any bid or changing the bidding increments as they see fit; or
- Resolve mistakes or disputes by continuing the bidding, cancelling a sale, or reoffering and reselling the disputed item.

All decisions made by GC Wines or the auctioneer are completely final and legally binding.

s) Buyer's Premium.

A Buyer's premium of twenty-two-point-five percent (22.5%)(inclusive of GST) shall be added to the hammer price.

t) Meaning of Associates.

"Associate" shall mean, with respect to any specific entity, any other entity that directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or under common control with, the specific entity. For the purpose of this definition, the term "control," when used in respect of any entity, shall mean the power and authority to manage such entity, whether directly or indirectly, through the holding of shares with a voting right, through a contract or otherwise.

Terms & Conditions

3. POST-AUCTION FOR SUCCESSFUL BIDDERS & BUYERS

(a) Invoicing and Payment

- When to Pay: You will receive your final invoice within 7 business days after the auction. Payment is due upon receipt and must be paid within 30 days of the auction date.
- Late Fees: Any payment received more than 30 days after the auction will face a daily late interest charge of 1.0% on the unpaid amount, starting from day 30 until it is paid in full. The auction items will only be delivered to you after payment is received in full.
- Payment Methods: You can pay by wire transfer or credit card (Visa, MasterCard, and American Express).
- Credit Card Fees: A fee of 3.5% applies to the hammer price and Buyer's Premium (where allowed by law)
- The above Credit Card Fees may be amended from time to time by GC Wines at its sole discretion.
- Support: Please contact GC Wines at support@singaporewineauction.com for wire instructions or questions.

b) Release of Purchased Auction Items

- Releasing Your Items: GC Wines will release your purchased items once your final invoice is paid in full and you have met all other terms of this agreement.
- Collection Deadline: You must collect your items within 30 days after the auction.
- Storage Fees for Late Pickup: If you do not collect your items within 30 days, they will be moved to a third-party warehouse. You will be responsible for all packing, handling, moving, insurance, and storage costs as outlined in the Collection and Shipment of Wines form.
- Getting Items Back: The warehouse will only release your items after you pay all of these outstanding storage fees and costs in full.

c) Shipping and Third-Party Delivery Services

Your Responsibility: Please read the Collection, Shipping and Third-Party Delivery Services of Wines terms and conditions. You are entirely responsible for all packaging, handling, transport, insurance, and delivery of your purchased items. All shipping is done at your own risk and expense.

Paying for Shipping: You must pay GC Wines in advance for any third-party shipping services we arrange on your behalf, unless we decide to bill you after the delivery is completed.

Third-Party Liability: GC Wines will follow your instructions to set up delivery with your chosen carrier. However, we are not responsible for any mistakes, damages, poor storage conditions, or omissions made by the carrier or shipper.

GC Wines bears no responsibility for your items once ownership transfers to you.

d) GC Wines Limited Guarantee and Claims Policy

AUTHENTICITY WARRANTY: Subject to the obligations accepted by GC Wines under this authenticity warranty, none of the seller, GC Wines, its employees or agents is responsible for the correctness of any statement as to the authorship, origin, date, age, attribution, genuineness or provenance of any Auction Lot, for any other error of description or for any fault or defect in any Auction Lot. Further, no warranty whatsoever is given by the seller, GC Wines, its employees or agents in respect of any Auction Lot and any express or implied condition or warranty is hereby excluded;

If, (1) within twenty-one days of the date of the auction, GC Wines has received notice in writing from the Buyer of any Auction Lot that in their view the Auction Lot was at the date of the auction short or ullaged or that any statement of opinion in the catalogue was not well founded; (2) within fourteen days of such notice, GC Wines has the Auction Lot in its possession in the same condition as at the date of the auction and (3) within a reasonable time thereafter, the Buyer satisfies GC Wines that the Auction Lot was as notified in writing by the Buyer (as above) and that the Buyer is able to transfer a good and marketable title to the Auction Lot free from any lien or encumbrance, GC Wines will set aside the sale and refund to the buyer any amount paid by the Buyer in respect of the Auction Lot provided that the Buyer shall have no rights under this authenticity warranty if: (i) the defect is mentioned in the catalogue; or (ii) the catalogue description at the date of the auction was in accordance with the then generally accepted opinion of scholars or experts or fairly indicated there to be a conflict of such opinion; or (iii) it can be established that the lot was as notified in writing by the buyer (as above) only by means of a scientific process not generally accepted for use until after the publication of the catalogue or by means of a process which at the date of the auction was unreasonably expensive or impracticable or likely to have caused damage to the lot. (See also notes on ullages and corks);

Terms & Conditions

The Buyer shall not be entitled to claim under this authenticity warranty for more than the amount paid by them for the lot and in particular shall have no claim for any loss, consequential loss or damage whether direct or indirect suffered by them.

The benefit of this authenticity warranty shall not be assignable and shall rest solely and exclusively in the buyer who shall be the person to whom the original invoice was made out by GC Wines in respect of the lot when sold and who has since the sale retained uninterrupted, unencumbered ownership thereof.

While GC Wines and its appointed specialists physically inspect every bottle not sourced directly from a winery to check for appropriate fill levels, capsule condition, and color, the natural maturation and potential degradation of older wines are considered an inherent risk borne by the buyer. All Auction Lots Sold "AS IS".

ULLAGES AND CORKS OF OLD WINES Wines are described in this catalogue as correctly as can be ascertained at time of going to press, but buyers of old wines must make appropriate allowances for natural variations of ullages, conditions of cases, labels, corks and wine. No returns will be accepted.

ULLAGE: The amount by which the level of wine is short of being full: these levels may vary according to age of the wines and, as far as can be ascertained by inspection prior to the sale, are described in the catalogue. A chart explaining level and ullage descriptions and interpretations, appears in this catalogue.

Conditions for a Claim: To be eligible for a refund, the wine must meet all of the following rules:

- It must still have the GC Wines auction sale date reference sticker on the bottle.
- It must be in the exact same condition as when it was delivered to you.
- It must have been shipped and stored under appropriate temperature-controlled conditions at all times.

Waiver of Rights: By bidding, you agree that you cannot bring legal action against GC Wines over any decision we make regarding a refund claim. If you do not submit a proper written notice within the 21-day window, you officially lose your right to cancel the sale.

Counterfeit and Fraud Protection: If GC Wines suspects that an Auction Lot is a forgery or the result of fraudulent activity, we reserve the right to cancel the sale. We may also seize and hold the items if they are currently inside any associated facility. If you have already paid, GC Wines will return your funds.

Only the Original Buyer is Covered: This refund option belongs solely to the original Buyer. You must have remained the continuous, single owner of the wine without transferring any ownership interest to a third party.

Maximum Liability: A refund of the purchase price is your only remedy for authenticity or condition issues, and it is only available if you received the wine directly from GC Wines. GC Wines is not liable for any indirect, punitive, or consequential damages (including lawyer fees). Our maximum liability will never exceed the amount you paid for the item, excluding taxes.

Importer and Serial Number Exclusions: GC Wines attempts to note in the catalogue if a single Auction Lot contains wines from different importers, but failing to do so is not grounds to cancel a sale. Misstatements or omissions regarding bottle serial numbers or sequence numbers are also not valid grounds for returns or cancellations.

Terms & Conditions

e) Penalties for Default and/or Non-Payment by Buyer

If you do not pay your invoice within 90 days after the auction, GC Wines has the full right to take any of the following actions at its sole discretion:

- Cancel the Sale: We can cancel your purchase entirely.
- Resell the Items: We can resell the wine publicly or privately at your risk. If it sells for less than your original winning bid, you must pay the difference. You will also be billed for all auction fees, costs, and Buyer's premiums for both the original sale and the resale.
- Deduct Owed Money: We can use any money we owe you (if any) to pay off your unpaid invoices.
- Keep a Security Interest: We can hold a first-priority legal claim (lien) over any of your wine or property in our possession until you pay.
- Charge Collection Costs & Interest: We will collect the total amount due plus all collection expenses. We will also charge a daily interest fee of 1.0% on the unpaid balance, starting from day 35 after the auction.
- Recover Legal Fees: You will be required to pay all of GC Wines' lawyer fees and legal expenses incurred while enforcing these rules.
- Ban from Future Auctions: We can block you from participating directly or indirectly in any future auctions run by GC Wines or its associates.
- Enforce Seller Rights: We can take any legal action against you that the original Seller would be allowed to take.
- Assert All Legal Rights or Remedies: Assert any other rights or remedies available at law or in equity.

GC Wines may choose to use any single remedy or combine multiple remedies listed above.

f) Buyer's Indemnity Agreement

You shall indemnify, defend, and hold GC Wines and its officers, directors, employees, and agents, harmless from any loss, expense (including attorneys' fees and expenses, which shall be paid in advance), liability, costs, or damages incurred by reason of

- Your breach: Any violation or alleged violation of your agreements or promises under this contract.
- Inaccurate paperwork: Any false or incorrect details in the documents, certificates, or paperwork you provide.
- Damage to wine: Any action or neglect by you, your employees, or your agents that harms or negatively affects the wine.

Your promises, responsibilities, and legal obligations to protect GC Wines continue to remain active and legally binding even after the auction and transactions are fully completed.

g) Taxes

The Buyer is responsible for any applicable tax including any GST, sales or compensating use tax or equivalent tax wherever such taxes may arise on the hammer price and the buyer's premium. It is the buyer's responsibility to ascertain and pay all taxes due. GC Wines recommends you obtain your own independent tax advice.

4. GENERAL TERMS.

a) Headings. The section headings in this Agreement are for convenience of reference only and shall not be considered as substantive parts of this Agreement.

b) Entire Agreement. This Agreement (including all instruments incorporated by reference) constitutes the entire agreement between GC Wines and Buyer pertaining to the subject matter hereof and supersedes any and all prior discussions and agreements between them. Unless otherwise expressly provided for in this Agreement, this Agreement may not be amended, nor shall any waiver, change, modification, consent, or discharge of any part of this Agreement be granted, except by an instrument in writing executed by both GC Wines and the Buyer. Any failure by GC Wines to enforce any provision of this Agreement shall not operate as a waiver of such provision.

c) Dispute Resolution. Any dispute, controversy, difference, or claim arising out of or relating to this Agreement—including its existence, validity, interpretation, performance, breach, termination, or any related non-contractual obligations—shall be referred to and finally resolved by arbitration administered by the Singapore International Arbitration Centre (SIAC) under the SIAC Arbitration Rules in force when the Notice of Arbitration is submitted. The law governing this arbitration clause shall be Singapore law. The seat of arbitration shall be Singapore. The number of arbitrators shall be one, and the arbitration proceedings shall be conducted in English.

5. LANGUAGE.

In case of any conflict between the English and Chinese versions of this document, the English version shall prevail.
